BONUS SYSTEM IS DANGEROUS

Labor Leader Mitchell Opposes Economy Proposed by Brandeis.

THREATENS THEIR SANITY

Quotes Alienist to Show That Railroads Should Not Adopt These Methods.

New York, December 11.—John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America, now member of the executive committee of the National Civil Federation, and one of the most prominent labor leaders in America, attacked yesterday what he believed to be some of the means advocated by Louis D. Brandeis to save $1,000,000 a year for the railroads of the country. Mr. Mitchell said he believed that he was a valued friend of labor; that he was a deep thinker and a man possessed of profound economic knowledge. He did not want to misinterpret anything Mr. Brandeis had said, and if he said anything not justified by what Mr. Brandeis had advocated it was because he had misunderstood it. "Mr. Brandeis has been saying that some $200,000,000 a year could be saved by the railroads in the cost of transportation, according to the newspaper," said Mr. Mitchell. "There is a general belief that he advocates a means to that saving the premium or bonus system of paying the workmen, and further specialization in work. I do not believe that the workmen employed by the railroads should do more work than they are now doing. I do not believe that anything can safely be saved on them, and that if there is a waste of $300,000,000 a year, it lies outside the sphere of cost occupied by the workmen. And I am against the bonus system, because it is against the specialization of work, and against too much specialization."

Fire Announced FROM THE PULPIT

Congregation Leaves in Orderly Manner, and Damage Is Very Slight.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., December 11.—An exceptionally large congregation in Christ Episcopal Church this morning was startled by the announcement from the chancel that the building was on fire. There was no panic, and the admonition of the rector that the people pass out in a quiet, orderly way was heeded to a remarkable degree. An assurance on the part of the minister that there was no immediate danger did much toward averting a panic. The fire was in the basement. Woodwork close by an immense new furnace had inadvisedly become overheated. The city fire apparatus was quickly detached, thereby saving one of the handsomest and best church properties in the State from serious fire damage.

was a deep thinker and a man possessed of profound economic knowledge. He did not want to misinterpret anything Mr. Brandeis had said, and if he said anything not justified by what Mr. Brandeis had advocated it was because he had misunderstood it.

"Mr. Brandeis has been saying that some $200,000,000 a year could be saved by the railroads in the cost of transportation, according to the newspaper," said Mr. Mitchell. "There is a general belief that he advocates a means to that saving the premium or bonus system of paying the workmen, and further specialization in work. I do not believe that the workmen employed by the railroads should do more work than they are now doing. I do not believe that anything can safely be saved on them, and that if there is a waste of $300,000,000 a year, it lies outside the sphere of cost occupied by the workmen. And I am against the bonus system, because it is against the specialization of work, and against too much specialization."

"First, as to specialization. The thought should not be so much about the machine as about the man in front of the machine. There is a point in the specialization of work, beyond which it is not safe to go, because of the deterioration of the workman and ultimately of the kind of work he does. I think that point has about been reached in the railroads and in most of the other large industries."

"Speaking recently in an interview, Dr. William Mabon, superintendent of the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane, said that monotony of labor is a frequent cause of insanity. Let me read you what he said:

"The article quoted Dr. Mabon as saying, for example, that in a shoe factory one man has a machine to punch holes in strips of leather for the laces; that all day long, for six days in the week, he punches holes. That kind of work gets to be absolutely automatic, and many workmen deteriorate while doing it. The brain cells that are not used in the piece of specialized work, which are most of those in the brain, finally go dead from lack of use, and the worker is ready for the insane asylum."

"This horrible monotony of specialized labor," Dr. Mabon was quoted as saying, "is doing a great deal to unbalance the minds of the workers."
